

João Castro Silva (JS) is a Assistant Professor with aggregation of the Faculty of Fine Arts of the University of Lisbon (FBAUL). PhD in Sculpture from FBAUL. Master's in art history from ULL. Bachelor's degree in Sculpture from FBAUL. Attended the Royal College of Art of London. Member of CIEBA – Research Center for Studies in Fine Arts where he coordinates the Sculpture Research – Methods and Vocabulary. Foreign collaborator in the research group LEENA - Laboratory of Extension and Research in Arts, Federal University of Espírito Santo, Brazil. Carries out practical-theoretical research in Direct Carving on wood. Exhibits regularly since 1990 and has public works in Portugal and abroad. Participate in symposiums, won several awards, and is represented in national and international collections. He recently published a book on Sculpture.